WHAT DOES THE DIISP LAB PROVIDE?

Built through support from the College of Arts and Sciences, the Office of the Provost, and the Office of the Vice Provost for Research, the DIISP lab is a 4000 sq ft research facility providing:

- Computing facilities for group and individual studies using a broad array of paradigms commonly used in the social sciences
- AV recording rooms with high quality cameras and microphones
- Psychophysiology recording rooms
- Laptops for running studies off-site
- A large database of student and community participants who can complete your studies
- Efficient online systems for participant recruitment and space booking
- Workshops to promote knowledge of social science research methods

NEED STUDENT OR COMMUNITY PARTICIPANTS FOR YOUR STUDIES?

The DIISP lab maintains an online database of students and community members who are interested in participating in research studies at Duke. Our online experiment scheduling system allows targeted recruitment by race, age and gender and makes finding participants easy.

NEED FUNDING FOR PARTICIPANT RECRUITMENT?

Graduate students and faculty can apply for $500 grants to support the payment of research participants. Check out the website below for further details.

HOW DO I GET STARTED?

Please go to www.ssri.duke.edu/diisp-lab.php to register as a researcher, apply for grants, and learn more about the equipment and facilities we have to support social science at Duke.
